Village

People

THE RIVIERA HOTEL AND CASINO'S ROYALE PAVILION is the place to be when singing legends, the Village People, return to bring the house down for two nostalgic, hip-grating evenings, Friday and Saturday, April 20 & 21.

The brainchild of producers Jacques Morali and partner Henri Belolo, the American male stereotypes, The Village People, hit the music scene like a ball of fire. Recordings like "YMCA," "Macho Man," "In The Navy," and "Ready for the 80's" became instant hits. Their albums "Cruisin'" and "Go West" went platinum.

During the early years of the the group, Madonna and Joan Rivers were among the artists who opened for the Village People in Las Vegas, Madison Square Garden, Japan's Budokan, Sydney's Hordern Pavilion and Hollywood's Greek Theater. They even co-starred with Michael Jackson in L.A.'s Palladium.

Their 1980 major motion picture "Can't Stop The Music," remains a popular cult classic around the world. When the film opened at the Ziegfeld Theater in Manhattan, lines formed for "Miles around the blocks," and traffic was tied up for hours during the post-opening party after the film. It redefined the term "Manhattan Mayhem."

Performing all around the world, the group is still going strong. Now it's your turn to experience the magic of one of the hottest singing groups ever to "Wow An Audience!" Tickets are $38 plus tax and fees. VIP seating is available. One performance each evening at 9pm, April 20 & 21. For reservations, please call the Riviera Box office at 702-794-9280, or click on www.theriviera.com. Reservations are recommended.

DININGGUIDE

Finding a bad meal in Las Vegas is harder than finding a clock in a casino. Visitors seem never to get over the 49-cent breakfasts and $2 steak dinners, but with more than 750 restaurants, Las Vegas has a lot more to offer than all-you-can-eat buffets. And, like the more publicized bargains, many of these restaurants offer very reasonable prices considering the quality of food and service.

Las Vegas has always been known for its American cuisine and "gourmet rooms." In addition, the town has numerous excellent Italian restaurants. In recent years, diners have seen a tremendous growth in the number of Oriental and other specialty houses, appealing to visitors and locals alike.

The Difference Between Ordinary and Extraordinary

There are a multitude of dining options in Las Vegas, yet only one offers selections from the world's largest wine collection, and culinary masterpieces from the South of France to Italy's Northern Coast.

Not to mention a cozy cigar terrace, overlooking the Rio's spectacular Ipanema beach.

When you want the best of both worlds, there's only one place to be.

JEFF FOXWORTHY

THE LARGEST-SELLING COMEDIAN IN HISTORY, with his 11 million-selling "You Might Be A Redneck If..." will bring his backwoods wit to Las Vegas at the Rio All-Suite Hotel & Casino.

A native of Atlanta, Foxworthy has spent the last decade helping audiences classify their "social standings" with his "You Might Be A Redneck If..." humor. To date, Foxworthy's recordings have tallied more than 11 million units, making him the largest selling comedy-recording artist in history. Contrary to popular beliefs Foxworthy was no overnight success story. It has been more than 14 years of hard work since he turned in his $30,000 job to work the comedy club circuit for no less than $20 a night. Before selling out major theaters, releasing best-selling CD's and books, and breaking industry records. Foxworthy was practically on a first name basis with every Holiday Inn manager in the country. But then his years of relentless touring began to pay off. He began winning several national and regional contests, developing a loyal fan base along the way

The end result had Foxworthy capturing the award for "Best Standup Comedian" at the 1990 American Comedy Awards. He went on to open for the likes of Garth Brooks, Jay Leno, The Judds, Eddie Rabbit and Wynton Marsalis

Foxworthy's latest album "Big Funny" on DreamWorks Records received a 2001 Grammy nomination, the fourth such honor Foxworthy has received. His first CD "You Might Be A Redneck If..." registered triple-platinum status, the only time a comedy album has surpassed this mark, becoming the largest-selling comedy recording of all time. "Games Rednecks Play" was certified platinum in a mere five weeks and is now triple platinum and received a Grammy nomination. His "Totally Committed" CD reached gold status and a 1999 Grammy nomination.

Award-winning Comedian Jeff Foxworthy will perform in the Rio's all-new, Samba Theatre, April 26-28, 9 pm. Tickets are $70 and are available at Rio Box Office or by calling (702)252-7777.

EARL TURNER

HE BURSTS ONTO THE STAGE with his trademark "party tonight" attitude. Earl Turner's explosive vocal stylings and infectious, high energy performances are delivered, as Turner likes to say, "in living color." His trademark audience interaction has led to standing room only crowds in the Rio's intimate RioBamba Cabaret. Leaping off the stage and dancing down the aisle is just one of the many ways Turner reaches his audience. You're free to join in or you can watch from the sidelines. As one audience member put it, "when Earl takes the stage, stand back because there's going to be fireworks." Turner has been called "a true definition of the term artist" (Las Vegas Review Journal) and a "multi-talented artist who totally captivates with personality, song and dance" (Entertainment Today.) Basically, after about five seconds you know that you are in for an incredible ride.

Turner's aspiration to become an entertainer came as no surprise, raised under the influence of his mother's extraordinary piano skills and his father's gifted gospel voice. "I was seeking fame," says Turner, who at age 13 made his debut playing bass guitar and by age 18 packed his bags to go on tour with a popular Chicago band. This young guitar/bass player kept his eye on the spotlight and by his early twenties was given his first opportunity to take the limelight and has been astounding audiences ever since.

Before Las Vegas, Turner successfully mastered five instruments, recorded a top 50 single, "Love Caught You By Surprise," and thrilled audiences in showrooms throughout the United States and Canada. Turner quickly made a name for himself after coming to Vegas in 1989. He has been named "Las Vegas' Best Male Vocal Performer of the Year" and is recognized as one of the "must see" lounge shows. Performing a variety of musical hits from Gospel to Rhythm and Blues, Country to Pop to Rock and Roll, it's a given that no two shows are ever the same. Take in this show if you're in the mood for a rousing good time, Wed - Sun 9 & 11 pm at the Rio's RioBamba Lounge, (702) 252-7777.
